

Theo James Krekis

Director / Writer

Represented by:

Francesca Devas

Theo is a Greek/British writer and director. His debut feature film, Lethean, is currently in development with BBC Films and Try Hard Films. In television, his original six-part series, Blossom, has been commissioned by the BBC and is being produced by Clerkenwell Films (Baby Reindeer, The End of the Fking World), with Theo set to direct. He was selected for Channel 4's 4Stories scheme, where he directed a road movie for the BAFTA-winning anthology series On the Edge. For this, he was nominated for Best New Director at the Edinburgh Television Awards. All three of his short films—Pram Snatcher (funded by BFI Network), Memoirs of a Geeza, and Mangas—premiered at the BFI London Film Festival over a span of four years. He is an alum of Network@LFF, Edinburgh Film Festival's Talent Lab Connects, and the BBC Writersroom, and is a Film London Lodestar. www.theojameskrekis.com
