

Emma Ramsay

Writer

Represented by:

Francesca Devas

Emma Ramsay is a Scottish screenwriter/director based in Edinburgh.

She was in the writers room for series two of CBBC sitcom NOVA JONES and wrote an original episode. She has also written episodes of the continuing drama RIVER CITY.

Emma was part of BBC Writers Scottish Voices '23 and is currently partnered with SYNCHRONICITY (THE CRY/TATTOOIST OF AUSCHWITZ) on the BBC Writers pilot scheme where she's writing THE RENTAL, a psychological-horror about the hell-that is the housing market.

In 2024 she wrote and directed the short film POLY BAGGAGE, a comedy/horror about heartbreak funded by the BFI Network and Screen Scotland. She is now developing projects across television as well-as her feature film BLUE SCARS,-a horror set in the mining-town she-grew-up-in.

FEATURE FILM

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
2023-	Blue Scars	Short Circuit	In Development

TELEVISION

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
2024-	Just A Girl	Snowed In Productions	In development
2024-	The Rental	Synchronicity Films	In development (BBC Pilot Scheme)
2023	River City - Series 25	BBC Scotland	Currently writing
2023-	Eat Worms	Birdie Pictures	In development
2022-	Like Hell	Longboat Pics	Original pilot in development
2022	River City - Series 24	BBC	1 episode
2022	Nova Jones Series 2	Jam Media / BBC	1 episode
2021-	Sorry (Writer)		Comedy spec Finalist in the inaugural Short Com script competition.

SHORT

DATE	PRODUCTION (ROLE)	COMPANY	PROJECT DETAILS
2024-	Poly Baggage (Writer / Director)	BFI Network / Screen Scotland
2022	In Her Corner (Director)		Written by Mikey Burnett In post-production