Jordan Gray is a British actor, comedian and screenwriter. She created and co-stars in the record-breaking and award-winning comedy series-Transaction-which is now being made as a 6 part series for ITV. Her unique comic perspective as a writer-performer has her working with UK comedy giants the likes of-Simon Pegg, Nick Frost, Matt Lucas, Spencer Jones-and-Russell Kane. After 10 years as a professional recording artist, Jordan made the leap to standup comedy in 2017. She was the first ever transgender contestant to appear on-The Voice, worldwide, reaching the semi-finals in 2016. Jordan offers an additional bespoke service as a Script Sensitivity Consultant, particularly for projects focussing on the transgender experience. Her past clients for this service include ITV, Matt Lucas and Bert Tyler-Moore.
